

DPD-6960-61

8 November 1961

MEMORANDUM FOR : Deputy Chief, Development Branch, DPD-DD/P
SUBJECT : Pilots Electronic Eyelevel Presentation

1. Per instructions, I proceeded to Room 1W92, Munitions Building, to attend a presentation by [] on windscreen presentation to aircraft pilots, at 1030, 8 November 1961. 25X

2. There was no general presentation; instead, there was a business meeting between two [] representatives and three Navy personnel on construction and possible procurement of such a system for testing. The system is a British development and is manufactured there. There was no demonstration. 25X

3. The present developmental, untested status of the system should preclude consideration of its use by us at this time. If the Navy develops, tests and adopts the system for extensive use then we should give further consideration. At present, in the case of the A-12, there are already too many untried systems which will provide delays in attaining operational status.
